

My Testimony

I can't say an exact time of when I became a Christian, it has been more of a gradual process. I have been brought up in a Christian home where the Lord Jesus is loved and I was brought along to church every week, I attended the various children's group and went to some Christian camps. I listened to all the bible passages and talks, but they didn't affect the way I lived. But gradually, it became increasingly important to me that I was a sinner and that it was a huge problem that I couldn't sort out myself. So I repented to God, and turned to God and asked Him for forgiveness in full confidence that He would hear me, and that through Jesus dying on the cross and taking my place He would wipe my slate clean of sin. I have recognised that I sin everyday and need to ask God for forgiveness constantly. Through His gift of the Holy Spirit to all believers, the Lord Jesus is helping me in my daily life and helping me grow in my faith. I am learning that following Jesus means that the way I think and the things I chose to do are different from others. I am learning to hate sin and love what is right. It can sometimes be hard to be different, but the Lord Jesus promises to help me. I am going to be baptised because the Lord Jesus commanded us to 'repent and be baptised'.
